Spicipe on the Hudson River Raileoad .- About

I o'clock yesterday afternoon, as the up express was between Tarrytown and Irvington, on the Hudson River Railroad, the engineer observed a man walking upon the track, but as he was upon the opposite one to that upon which the train was running, no signal of danger was necessary. Just as the train arrived nearly opposite him, he deliberately stepped in front of the engine, which threw him from the track. The train was at once stopped, and backed to where he lay, when it was found that he was quite dead, his neck having been broken. The body was taken on a handcar to Irvington, and the Coroner notified. The de ceased was about 45 years of age, and no doubt walked in front of the engine with the intention of committing

THE ARCTIC EXPEDITON.-A note was addressed yesterday to Henry Grinnell, Treasurer of the Arctic Expedition, by Messrs. C. Godfrey Gunther & Sons informing him that they would give as many Buffalo robes as may be necessary for the voyage.

THE SIXTEENTH WARD REPUBLICANS.-Last evening the Sixteenth Ward Lincoln and Harolin Campaign Club held an enthusiastic public meeting at the Republican Headquarters, No. 245 Eighth avenue, Republican Headquarters, No. 245 Eighth avenue, Isaac Dayton, President of the Club, in the chair. Earnest and eloquent addresses were delivered by Ethan Allen, Stuart L. Woodford, Charles Spencer, and others, setting forth the principles of the Republican party, the corruptions of the present Administration, and the great antidote to the evil, Lincoln and Hamlin. The Railsplitters Gleo Club enlivened the proceedings with several songs.

How PRIZE-FIGHTS ARE GOT UP .- An American writes to The Clipper detailing how Prize-Fights are got up in and about London. The process is so similar to the practice here that we make an extract from his communication:

"In every sporting-house here they have a room up stairs where the boys can put the mittens on. They have sparring two or three evenings during the week. To these there is no charge, unless it be for the 'benefit of young so and so;' then, if the beneficiare is not of some note, the tickets are seldom above a shilling, of some note, the tickets are seldom above a shilling anless you take a reserved seat, but such reserved seat. I never saw. On occasions when there are no benefits the company is not the most choice—at least, they don't look like 'dry-goods clerks.' I said there was no charge except at benefits, but no one should attend either without a few shillings in his pockets. When two boxers get through basting each other, they immediately leave the ring, and carry the 'hat' round with 'Please, sir, help a poor the seat of the carry the 'hat round with 'Presse, sir, help a poor fellow along.' This, from eight or ten couples, would soon relieve your pockets of a couple of dollars; but you must put up with it, as no American can with stand them—for, like Uriah Heep, they are 'so humble and polite. Many of those who have been in the ring. and polite. Many of those who have been in the ring do this. The exceptions are among the higher order of pugilists. My first visit was to Sayers's exhibition of puglists. My first visit was to Sayer's a sanishion, where such people as Job Cobley, Gillam, and Hicks, appeared, and, with very few exceptions, all who sparred carried the 'hat' round. It must be here understood that of those who spar at these exhibitions, some are working men, but a great part of them are 'setters,' who get their living by carrying round the aforesaid 'hat.' If any of them prove to be game, and tidy with his 'hands,' he is likely to be backed for a mill with some one by the proprietor of the house, and then he may be called Jem Ward's 'big 'un,' or Harry Broome's 'novice,' or somebody's 'pet.' This latter appellation is more fancied, I understand, when the pet is the protegé of some well-known 'bruiser.' The 'pet,' or 'big 'un,' if he win the battle, may get a 'light stake' from his backer or backers, and for this he is gratified, as he is well fed while training, and an especial favorite at the house until he lose a battle. This is pretty near the style, I think, in which prize-fighters are manufactured in England. They are not quite so independent as our boys, are they? But then they look forward to the glimmering hope that one day or other they will arrive at the top of the ladder, when they will harve a 'house of their own,' and an opportunity to do to others as they have been done had the supportunity to do to others as they have been done by and an opportunity to do to others as they have bee

BROOKLYN ITEMS.

THE NEXT VICE-PRESIDENT.-Hannibal Hamlin, the next Vice-President, has signified his intention of stopping a few days in Brooklyn, on his way home, after the adjournment of Congress. He will stay with his friend, Mr. Mudgett, who resides in Montagne street, and who was formerly a neighbor of his. The Ashland and Rocky Mountain Clubs, in conjunction with the Lincoln Battalion, are making preparation to serenade the expected visitor on a grand scale.

TEMPERANCE DENONSTRATION .- Last night, the Ridgewood Temperance Union gave their first Temperance demonstration at the Mission Church, in South Third street, Eastern District. The attendance was very large. The exercises of the evening were opened with prayer by Rev. W. C. H. Johnson, followed by singing by Misses Lucy and Cornelia Golding. G. W. G. H. S. Racket made a short address, and introduced the Rev. B. Peck, who delivered some appro priate remarks. Several odes, by a select choir, under the direction of D. B. Gulick, were sung. The Rev. B. Peters, in conclusion, delivered a very able and cloquent Temperance address.

THE SANITARY POLICE.-The Smitary police made an examination of the cow stables in the Eighth Ward yesterday and found them in a fifthy condition, similar inspected in Franklin avenue and Skillman street the day previous. The cows are herded together in dirty and ill-ventilated stables, and the last thing thought of by the owners is to keep their premises in decent order. Three of these stables will be reported to the proper authorities. In addition to the above the officers visited nineteen tenement houses and one piggery, also in the Eighth Ward. The total number of complaints to be made to-day will be seventy, of which the greater proportion are in relation to filthy tack yards and sinks in various parts of the city.

JEWISH SYNAGOGUE,-The Jewish congregation Beth Elohim, hitherto worshiping in a private room, have purchased for $6,000 the church corner of Eighth and South First streets, Williamsburgh, whence the Prestyterian congregation have lately removed to the new building in South Ninth street. The consecration of the new Synagogue will take place on Sunday afternoon next, when Dr. Raphael, the well-known Rabbi, will preach, the Revs. Messrs. Issues, Gotthold, Ster berg, and Kramer, taking part in the services.

RUFFIANLY ATTACK.—About 9 o'clock last night a German named Edward Wendt, residing in East New York, was attacked by three rufficis in Broadway, near Cooper avenue, E. D., and benten in a shocking manner, it is sileged, without the before the provocation, and the attacking party made their escape before the poor man's cries attracted the attention of any one in the neighborhood.

ROBBERY.—On Sunday last, as the funeral services of Mr. Chas. Hadfield were being held in the Reformed Dutch Church, East Williamsburgh, some persons broke into the house of J. W. Hadfield and carried off property to the value of $100. The robbery was not discovered until some time after the return

New Masonic Longs.—A new Masonic Lodge, to be known as Zeradotha Lodge No. 483, was dedicated last even-ing, and the officers installed.

NEW-JERSEY ITEMS.

TWO CHILDREN KILLED AT EAST NEWARK .- YOU terday morning, as the 7 o'clock train from Rahway reached East Newark, two litile girls, named Galla gher and Dillou, aged about seven or eight years, were discovered by the engineer walking hand in hand across the track, a short distance in advance of the approaching cars. With commendable alacrity he sound ed the whistle for breaking up, and the utmost efforts were made to stop the train. The children had just come up an embankment, and attempted to cross the track diagonally when the locomotive reached them, and notwithstanding the warning given by the engineer, they kept on, and were both struck by the cowcatcher.

One of them was thrown between the locomotive and train, which passed over her, doing, however, no apparent injury, although when picked up, and when our informant left, she appeared to be almost lifeless. The other was thrown with great force down the embankment, and was not discovered until some minutes afterward, the passengers supposing that there had been but one victim. This child was struck in the face from the right temple downward and was instantly killed. Some of the passengers laid the two bodies side by side on the grass. It was an affecting and terrible sight to see the little ones, who, but a few moments before, were walking hand in hand in life, now dead and dying upon that sad spot. The parents of the children, attracted by the stopping of the train and the outpouring of the passengers, approached the ground slowly and in entire ignorance of what had happened. When the truth became apparent, it may easily be conceived how terrible were their feelings.

GRAND DISPLAY OF THE NEWARK FIREMEN.—The annual parade of the Fire Department of the City of Newark, N. J., came off yesterday, and was the finest display that has ever taken place in that city. During the foreneon one or two companies from New-York, in connection with several delegations from the Jersey City Fire Department, arrived, as did also companies from Paterson, Jersey City and Elizabethtown, and took the positions assigned to them. Shortly after I o'clock, everything being in readiness, the line commenced moving from the east side of Military Park, and proceeded up Broad street to Plane, down Plane to Market street, thence into West Broad, where the right of the line rested for twenty minutes, when the march was again resumed. All along the route there was a dense mass of spectators; in fact every available position was taken up. And as each company passed by they were received with the waving of handkerchiefs and repeated cheers. The bands discoursed eloquent music, and the affair passed off in a creditable manner.

New Boars.—On Toesday evening, Capt. De Groot's two new propellers, the Resolute and Reliance, which were built at the shippard of B. C. Perry, at Keyport, N. J., arrived at Jersey City, to take in their engines, which were constructed at the latter place. They are fine boats, of 120 tuns burden, 93 feet in length, 17 feet beam, and 7 feet deep. They are intended expressly for harbor purposes, and are built in the most substantial manner. Each boat will be supplied with two engines of 200-horse power. The engines and wheels were constructed at Cobb & Field's North Point foundery. The boilers, which are improved tubular, were made by Howell & Birdsall, coiler makers, at the foot of Morris street, Jersey City. The boats will cost, when complete about $25,000 each, and will be finished by the 15th of July.

THIRD ANNUAL REGATTS OF THE JERSEY CITY YACHT CLUB .- What the yachts of our sistercity lack in size and speed they certainly make up in number. Twenty-four sail boats competed yesterday in the Third Annual Regatta of this Club. These were divided by the official programme as follows: First class measuring 25 feet and upward in length; Second class measuring 20 feet and under 25 feet; Third class measuring under 20 feet. The following were the sailing

COURSE.

For the First Class—Starting from the Judge's stake-beat, of the Club-House, around the north-east Buoy, on the West Bank,
No. 18, Reeping to the east of Ellis and Bedloe's Islands, going and returning. No. 18, keeping to the east of this sole land returning.

For the Second and Third Classes—Starting from the Judge's stakeboat, to a stake boat between Ellis and Redloe's Islands, passing it to the north-east, thence to the stake-boat off or near Fish Point, passing it to the south and west, thence to the Judge's take-boat passing it to the west and north, the ground to be sailed over four times.

Four boats only were entered as first-class, viz: the Dreadnaught, Quickstep, Daniel Lockwood, and Joseph Colgate. These started from the stake-boat in the order in which they are named, the first leaving precisely at 1 p. m., and the fourth at 1:11. Nine boats of the third class followed next, between 1:20 and 1:26 p. m. The eight of the second class came close after, the first leaving at 1:32 and the last at 1:39, Three first-class boats had been withdrawn, so that only twenty-one yachts in all left the stake-boat.

The distance to be sailed by those of the two lower lasses was about 16, and that by the first class at least 22 miles in length. The day was unusually fine, but early in the afternoon the wind was very light, and boats of all classes became huddled together in a listless and uncomfortable manner. The Mary (first class) upset at the outset, from some inexplicable cause. Soon the Wave (second class) lost a spar, and the Gertrude and Amphitrite shortly followed suit. The wind then sprang up freshly from the south-east, and the remaining boats continued in the race, coming in on the return with the following result:

return with the following result:

PRIZE—Three Silver Gobiets; one for each class.

Winner. Time of salling Time arrival
First Class. Daniel Lockwood. 1:09 6:10
Second Class. John Bradish. 1:177 4:26
Third Class. Kill Time. 1:23 4:44

It was alleged by the crew of the boat which cam

n after the winner of the first-class prize that the Lockwood had not sailed around the proper buoy. There was, therefore, a probability of a protest being made, and of a consequent necessity for another trial, at some future date, of the boats entered as first class.

IRON AS A MEDICINE. IRON AS A MEDICINE. A TREATISE

ON IRON IN THE BLOOD.

The Boston Daily Advertiser, of June 16, 1859, in calling the attention of its readers to a communication on a pamphlet pub-Hahed by Messrs, N. L. Clark & Co., of Boston, on the " Nature and Use of Iron in the Minman Organism," says:

"We invite the attention of our readers to the subjoined comnumeration, which is from the peu of a very careful and discreet gentleman, to whom we have often been indebted for contribu-tions to our columns on various subjects. What he says is en-titled to a careful consideration."

"This pamphiet (the gentleman referred to says) is addressed not to ignorance and eradulity, but to the intelligence and a und judgment of the community, and asks for confidence in its statements and deductions no farther than they are borne out by well ments and deductions no farther than they are borne out by well authenticated facts. That confidence the reader, who is competent to weigh evidence will find it difficult, not to say impossible to withhold, so carefully is every important statement fortified by the testimony of individuals qualified by intelligence, judgment, character, and ample means of information to forma trustworthy opinion in the premises, and so strongly does the pamphlet counties an 'introduction' on 'from as a medicinal agent, and the importance of a due proporti no it in the lood,' size letters from numerous clergymen testifying to the remedial effects of the Peruvian Syrup, and an 'Appendix,' consisting of letters of physicians and others describing its effects in numerous cases, umong them several, especially that of Mrs. M. M. Portugal, which would be incredible were it not for the conclusive character of the testimony addreed in proof of them.

The introduction is an able and well-written article, prepared, as is stated in the preface, by the aid of acientific continues, and containing an interesting summary of the results of the latest physicologo-chemical researches respecting the inducate and importance of from in the kamen organism. The views maintained in it rest upon the authority of eminent men of science and some of them are sustained by cliations from their writings. It is shown that a certain quantity of it is attended with detarization of the blood and consequent disease; that iron can enter the blood and become assimilated to it only in the state of the Protudies; that the protocologies are acceptably unstable compound, absorbing oxygen from the air, and becoming a peroxide, which cannot he reduced by the enfeethed stomach to a protoxide, the only state in which it can enter the circulation. Dr. A. A. HAYES, Assayer to the State of Massachments, certifies that 'to maintain a solution of protoxide of iron has been deemed impossible, but that in the PRRIVIAN SYRUP this desirable point is airtained by combination in a way before unknown. JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D. Chemist, of New York City, in his analysis, agrees fully with Dr. HAYES, and says that it is well known to nedical men that it has been found very difficult to preserve in a palazable form, for a destrable beauth of time, compounds of the Protoxide of Iron, which desirable end is successfully attained the PERCUAIN SYRUP.

In concluding his communication, the writer says " he would cend the pamphlet to the candid and deliberate exemination of physicians, and all others who are interested in the great subject of health, either on their own a count, or that of the com unity. To such an examination, the great mass of important acts it lays before the reader, the air of truth and the absence of all exaggeration, and unsupported assertion by which it is characterized, give it a just claim. The pamphlet referred to can be had free of charge on applica
